

Who we are

What we can do for you

Our Partners

Londonlearning update

Brainteasers

Our Partners

Londonlearning works closely with the following organisations

Institute of Administrative Management (IAM)

IAM is the leading organisation for today's administration professional. Established in 1915, the Institute of Administrative Management is the only professional body for both practising and aspiring Administrative Managers. Professionals who are responsible for the management of Systems and Processes, Human Resources, Communications, Information Technology, Facilities, Training & Development and Finance. The IAM offers qualifying programmes in administration and related fields and has students in the UK and 65 other countries. The IAM strives to promote Professionalism in Management and Excellence in Administration and supports the profession of Incorporated Administrative Manager. IAM has recently extended its qualifications to schools.

<http://www.instan.org/>

Liquid

Liquid are our top content development partner based in India

<http://www.liquid.com/>

Edexcel International

Edexcel International is the overseas department of London Qualifications, the UK Awarding body. Edexcel International deliver qualifications in over 105 countries across the world.

<http://www.edexcel-international.org/>

BBC Worldwide

BBC Worldwide is the commercial arm of the BBC offering books, CD-ROMS, videos and programmes around the world.

<http://www.bbcworldwide.com/>

Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew

The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew is a non-profit, Non-Departmental Public Body sponsored in the UK by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural affairs (DEFRA)

<http://www.rbgkew.org.uk/>

DfES

The Department for Education and Skills is responsible for Lifelong learning in the UK. Its aim is to give children an excellent start in education, enable young people to equip themselves with life and work skills, and encourage adults to achieve their full potential through learning

<http://www.dfes.gov.uk/>

UKS team in Dubai

British Council

The British Council connects people worldwide with learning opportunities and creative ideas from the UK and builds lasting relationships between the UK and other countries.

<http://www.britishcouncil.org.uk/>

Open University Worldwide

The OU is the UK's largest university, with over 200,000 students and customers. The OU represents 22% of all part-time higher education students in the UK.

The university is ranked amongst the top UK universities for the quality of its teaching. Of the 23 subjects assessed by the Quality Assurance Agency, 17 have been placed in the top 'Excellent' category.

Courses are available throughout Europe and, usually by means of partnership agreements with other institutions, in many other parts of the world. About 26,000 learners are studying OU courses outside the UK.

<http://www.open.ac.uk/>

Learning Channel

Learning Channel is a leading e-learning company in Scotland. Londonlearning works with Learning Channel to develop e-learning solutions appropriate for local needs.

<http://www.learning-channel.com/>

Universal Knowledge Solutions

UKS originates from the Middle East and is based in the heart of its technological center. It carries the know-how and experience needed to adapt world-class solutions within a middle-eastern environment, by ensuring standards and quality relevant to the Arab market needs while respecting cultural ethos. Visit: <http://www.uks.ae/>

ICT Hellas

ICT Hellas is the key distributor of BTEC Awards in ICT (online) in Greece.

Email: kkatsifis@iekdomi.edu.gr

ICT Hellas visit Dulwich College

RL Solutions

RL Solutions are based in Sofia, Bulgaria and represent Londonlearning in the region.

top_

Contact Us | Privacy Policy

Copyright © 2004 Londonlearning. All rights reserved

